

The Smartly Dressed Man

of today is the one who will wear the WATSON-TANNER clothing. It's of that same quality fabric, workmanship, cut and finish as that you'll find only in the product of the high class metropolitan draper—it's as far in advance of the ordinary ready-to-wear clothing as the product of the first-class city tailor is to the usual ready-made clothing.

You'll find a fit here—in your choice of fabric and within the range of your pocket book.

$10 to $45

Watson-Tanner Clothing Co.

376 Twenty-Fourth Street

REGISTER

We want you to have one of our 1910 Calendars. Please have your name registered for one when making your next purchase at our store in November.

WM. DRIVER & SON DRUG CO.

2453 Washington Ave.

SLADE

Successor to Allen Transfer Co. J. C. Slade, Lessee. VANS, DRAYS, BAGGAGE WAGGONS, PIANO, FURNITURE AND SAFE MOVING.

465 25th St. Both Phones 321

GUNS Revolvers, rifles, shot guns, at sacrifice prices. Slightly used, and in A1 condition. Specify kind and write for prices. A. H. Y. Adler, 1543 Broadway, New York, N. Y.

WANT ADS BRING BIG RESULTS. WANT ADS BRING BIG RESULTS.

WALK-OVER SHOES A Good Start

The man who purchases a pair of Walk-Over Shoes has made a good start on the road to comfort and satisfaction. Once started he never wishes to turn back.

ALL SHAPES AND STYLES. ALL WEIGHTS AND LEATHERS.

Walk-Over Shoe Store 370 24th Street WALK-OVERS ARE UNION MADE.

SOCIETY

A social event to be remembered was the reception and ball given at the Congress Dancing academy by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emerson Hoag, giving their friends the opportunity to meet Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Emerson Hoag, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bell, Mr. Harold Chamberlain Day and Miss Florence Wilson.

The hall and reception rooms were brilliantly lighted and most artistically decorated for the occasion, under the personal direction of Mrs. Ralph Emerson Hoag, whose display of exquisite taste resulted in a scene most pleasing to the eye. The ceiling of the main hall was festooned with evergreens, Christmas bells, the hand stand being decorated with evergreens and surrounded by potted palms, while the reception room, where refreshments were served, was elaborately festooned with green and clusters of beautiful red poinsettias, the round tables being rich with dainty lace centers and silver candelabra with red candles. The windows were daintily draped with Dresden silk.

Refreshments were in the prevailing colors. The orchestra was reinforced for the occasion and discoursed sweet melodies for the delighted dancers. The beautiful gowns were remarked—many and too many to mention—and were the latest importations from artists. Space will permit a few to be described.

Mrs. Hoag wore embroidered, black satin, with jetted lace net overdress. Mrs. Bristol, white lace over satin, pearl trimmings and pink shoes.

Mrs. Bell, iridescent beaded net over pink satin.

Miss Wilson, white satin with gold trimmings.

Mrs. David Eccles, tan silk with blue trimmings, imported.

Mrs. Davis, pink and white silk. Mrs. Lynch, blue embroidered silk, imported.

Mrs. Horace Peery, pink and white silk, imported.

Mrs. Lewis, pink and white silk. Mrs. Harman, blue muslin.

Mrs. W. H. Harris, black silk with jet trimmings.

Mrs. Henry, pink satin. Mrs. Jack Browning, apricot silk.

Mrs. Heywood, Wisteria silk with net overdress.

Mrs. George Matson, white lingerie. Mrs. E. W. Matson, white wool, embroidered.

Miss Gwilliam, blue net over silk. Miss Fitzgerald, white peau de soie.

Miss Smith, pearl gray silk. Miss Butler, white silk.

Mrs. Parley Wright, white embroidered net over silk.

Mrs. Will Wright, Wisteria silk. Mrs. Flossie W. Brown, black and white silk.

Mrs. Hibbs, light green embroidered chiffon over taffeta, with real lace, imported.

Mrs. H. H. Spencer, embroidered black chiffon over purple taffeta silk, wearing net hat.

Mrs. Kircher, light blue crepe de chine.

Mrs. Hugh Wood, ashes of roses silk.

Assisting the hostess, Mrs. Ralph Emerson Hoag, were Miss Henderson, who wore crimson crepe de chine, and Mrs. Hollingsworth in white silk.

The out-of-town guests were Miss May Olive Shedy of Los Angeles, California; Mr. J. S. Peery and Mr. Douglas Swan, of Salt Lake; Mr. Nebeker, Logan, and Mr. John Pierce of Brigham.

The bazaar and dance given by the Relief Society of the Third ward in the ward hall Tuesday afternoon and evening, proved a success in every particular.

The bazaar in the afternoon drew quite a crowd and the articles on sale were disposed of with very little difficulty and netted the ladies a neat sum.

In the evening about two hundred and fifty persons gathered in the hall and indulged in dancing and other amusements. In one corner of the hall was the fortune telling booth, in the capable hands of Miss Annie Sawyer, who proved herself a past mistress of the art and enlightened many as to the good and ill which would befall them in the future, mostly good, however.

Uneda the NATIONAL Biscuit

In another corner ice cream and candy were dispensed by members of the society. A guessing game, called "How Many Beans in the Pot," caused considerable merriment, the prize (the bottle of beans) being won by M. C. A. Nelson.

The voting contest for the most popular lady in the ward was very close and interesting. The prize, a very beautiful sofa pillow, was awarded to Mrs. Julia Parry.

President James Witherspoon and John V. Bluth, of the North Weber Stake, and Mrs. Georgiana Marriott, president of the Stake Relief Society, were also present.

President Sarah Tracy and those assisting her should be congratulated for arranging such a pleasant party with such a worthy object in view, that of raising money to assist the society in their work during the Christmas season.

The party broke up at about 11:30 p. m.

AN UNEXPECTED SURPRISE.

Mr. Joe Kuhn proved to be the victim of a very pleasant surprise, when a number of his friends of the younger social set aroused him from his peaceful slumbers Friday evening at his home, 2357 Adams avenue.

Immediately upon the arrival of the guests the refreshments, which had been so readily procured, were fully served by Miss May Morrissey, after which music and games were indulged in until a late hour.

Those who so joyously participated in the merrymaking were: Misses Marie De Julian, Libby Newey, Margaret Morrissey, Hattie Star, Marguerite Casey and Myrtle Kuhn. Messrs. Fred Slater, Frank Stone, Hal Farr, Walter Smyth, Emil Greiner and Joe Kuhn.

JOLLY BACHELORS BALL.

As usual the hospitality of the Jolly Bachelors was rewarded by a full attendance of the lovers of the terpsichorean art at the Royal Dancing Academy, Thursday evening, December 1.

The music was enjoyed by all and the orchestra kept its usual standard by producing the harmonious strains of favorite melodies.

Mr. Brown served delicious punch and the floor managers were genial and accommodating in furthering all conveniences for the guests.

A fine floor and pretty cosy corners added to the comfort of about one hundred and fifty guests.

WEDDING BELLS.

The happy culmination of a very pretty romance was the marriage of Miss Ella Thenn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Thenn, of this city, to Mr. John B. Pickett of Chicago, Ills.

The wedding was solemnized at the home of Rev. Father Cushman on Wednesday, December 1st. Father Cushman officiating.

The young couple departed for Chicago over the Scenic Route of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad at 2:15 Wednesday afternoon. They will visit relatives of the bride in Denver en route to St. Louis. The good wishes of their many friends go with them.

"LUCKY THIRTEEN" ENTERTAINED.

Mrs. W. M. Anderson hospitably entertained the "Lucky Thirteen" Wednesday afternoon, at cards, at her comfortable home, where she in accordance with the cold afternoon served a hot luncheon, which was enjoyed and appreciated by her guests.

Prizes were won by Mrs. W. H. Vorhees, Mrs. P. W. Jackman, and Mrs. Thomas Davis.

The following were present: Mesdames McGaw, Gulliver, Davis, Jackman, Vorhees, Ballard, Rhine and Bert Ritchey.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY.

The Historical Society held a meeting this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Condon, 216 Madison avenue.

Rev. E. E. Carver gave one of his intellectual talks to members from all clubs in the city, and all ladies interested in club work.

There was a large attendance and the afternoon program was enjoyed by all.

THURSDAY DINNER PARTY.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis entertained a few of their friends at dinner Thursday, in honor of Miss Margaret Lewis, niece of Mrs. Lewis, who was visiting at their home, 617 Twenty-third street, Ogden.

Sixteen covers were laid in the tastefully decorated dining room, where chrysanthemums abounded.

KAPPA CHI'S ENTERTAIN.

The Kappa Chi's met last Monday at the home of Miss Florence Cooney, 122 Twenty-third street.

After the regular business was transacted, the members repaired to the dining room where a delicious repast was served.

VISITS FRIENDS.

Mrs. Evelyn Rooks, stenographer, employed by the Denver & Rio Grande at Salt Lake, after a visit with relatives and friends at Evanston, Wyo., stopped in Ogden to call on her friend, Mrs. J. A. Bennett, at her pretty home, 255 Twenty-ninth street, Ogden, the first part of the week.

UNIQUE BOOK PARTY.

Something unique in the way of parties was given by Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald at her residence, 2536 Adams avenue, Thursday evening, December 1, in honor of Miss May Olive Shedy of Los Angeles, California.

Miss Fitzgerald received and a very merry time was enjoyed by her young guests, who each represented a popular literary effort.

Prizes were given for the best sustained characters. The young gentleman who received first prize represented the "Scaled Message, R. S. V. P." while the young lady's prize was the representation "Paid in Full."

Delicious refreshments were served.

CEMBLUM CLUB.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. Christensen entertained the ladies of the Cembalum club at her beautiful home on Healy avenue. Cards and social chat, also several beautiful selections were rendered on the piano by Miss Ella Livingston formed the entertainment for the guests.

At 4:30 p. m. lunch was served in the dining room, after which the guests departed, declaring Mrs. Christensen a royal entertainer.

The Cembalum club will meet with Mrs. J. N. Murray at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lyon, on Thursday afternoon, December 9.

EPISCOPAL BAZAAR.

A very unique feature of the Episcopal bazaar, held yesterday and concluded this evening, in the parlors of the church of the Good Shepherd at the corner of Grant and Twenty-fourth street, was that of "The Old Woman in the Shoe" represented by a beautiful little girl ensconced in a large shoe, surrounded by her family of dolls.

Other attractions were The Gypsy camp and fortune telling, Japanese and other exotic and another feature of entertainment pleasing to the numerous guests attending.

One of the social events of the week was the party given at the Orpheum by the L. T. & E. club on Wednesday evening. They had as their guest Mr. George Shorten, the genial floor walker at Wright's. Refreshments were served at Hupfer's after the performance. Those present were the Mesdames Mabel Bell, Ida Baxter, Margaret Wilkinson, Lizzie Smith, Rose Hartog and Dorothy Childs.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The ladies of the Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church met with Mrs. Frank Peterson Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Crane of Salt Lake City gave a very interesting talk on the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Peterson read excellent papers on Alaska, after which refreshments were served.

her pretty home, 255 Twenty-ninth street, Ogden, the first part of the week.

UNIQUE BOOK PARTY.

Something unique in the way of parties was given by Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald at her residence, 2536 Adams avenue, Thursday evening, December 1, in honor of Miss May Olive Shedy of Los Angeles, California.

Miss Fitzgerald received and a very merry time was enjoyed by her young guests, who each represented a popular literary effort.

Prizes were given for the best sustained characters. The young gentleman who received first prize represented the "Scaled Message, R. S. V. P." while the young lady's prize was the representation "Paid in Full."

Delicious refreshments were served.

CEMBLUM CLUB.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. Christensen entertained the ladies of the Cembalum club at her beautiful home on Healy avenue. Cards and social chat, also several beautiful selections were rendered on the piano by Miss Ella Livingston formed the entertainment for the guests.

At 4:30 p. m. lunch was served in the dining room, after which the guests departed, declaring Mrs. Christensen a royal entertainer.

The Cembalum club will meet with Mrs. J. N. Murray at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lyon, on Thursday afternoon, December 9.

EPISCOPAL BAZAAR.

A very unique feature of the Episcopal bazaar, held yesterday and concluded this evening, in the parlors of the church of the Good Shepherd at the corner of Grant and Twenty-fourth street, was that of "The Old Woman in the Shoe" represented by a beautiful little girl ensconced in a large shoe, surrounded by her family of dolls.

Other attractions were The Gypsy camp and fortune telling, Japanese and other exotic and another feature of entertainment pleasing to the numerous guests attending.

One of the social events of the week was the party given at the Orpheum by the L. T. & E. club on Wednesday evening. They had as their guest Mr. George Shorten, the genial floor walker at Wright's. Refreshments were served at Hupfer's after the performance. Those present were the Mesdames Mabel Bell, Ida Baxter, Margaret Wilkinson, Lizzie Smith, Rose Hartog and Dorothy Childs.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The ladies of the Home Missionary society of the First M. E. church met with Mrs. Frank Peterson Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Crane of Salt Lake City gave a very interesting talk on the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Peterson read excellent papers on Alaska, after which refreshments were served.

PEERY-SMITH ENGAGEMENT.

President and Mrs. Joseph F. Smith announced the engagement of their daughter, Ina, to Joseph Stras Peery, the marriage to take place December 23 at their residence in Salt Lake City. Mr. Peery is a resident of Ogden.

OGDEN THEATERS.

In the near future Ogden will be pleased with the opportunity of attending high class opera. At the present time the Orpheum promises an attractive bill for next week and the Neptune shows are drawing full houses.

VISITS HER BROTHER.

Mrs. Wilson, Critzer, sister of Dr. E. P. Mills, city superintendent, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

Miss Wilson received her early training in New York, and her voice was considered even then exceptional. She often sang before President and Mrs. McKinley. Later, Miss Wilson went abroad and studied with some of the greatest masters on the continent; at the same time perfecting herself in foreign languages. Recently she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carnegie at Skibo castle in northern Scotland. The laird of Skibo was giving what he called an "educational week" and numbered among his guests Honorable Richard Evelyn Buxton, the British minister of war; the Duchess of Sutherland and many other prominent persons.

Indispensable.—There are some simple remedies indispensable in every family. Among these, the experience of years assures us, should be recorded Perry Davis' Painkiller. For both internal and external application we have found it of great value; especially can we recommend it for colds, rheumatism, or fresh wounds.—Christian Era.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

It is said that when Miss Wilson was a little girl she used to start the singing of the hymns in a Scottish Presbyterian church in an Iowa village, and the congregation prophesied that she would one day be a great singer. That little girl, now the brilliant and successful woman, has made those words true.

MISS WILSON AT THE TABERNACLE TONIGHT

Miss Flora Wilson, daughter of James Wilson, of President Taft's cabinet, is in Ogden, and will sing at the Tabernacle this evening. She is making a concert tour of the country and will afterwards sing in grand opera at the Metropolitan in New York. Miss Wilson was virtually born in public life, as her father, James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, affectionately known throughout the country as "the sturdy old Scott from Iowa," was in congress at the time of her birth and has served the nation either then or as a cabinet minister ever since.

parlors were well filled and the evening was passed very pleasantly. Refreshments were served.

MISS FLORENCE WILSON, daughter of Secretary Wilson of the department of agriculture, Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Eccles.

OGDEN IS TO SEE GREAT PAINTING

"In the Shadow of the Cross," the "miracle" painting which has caused worldwide comment, will be exhibited in Ogden, the week of January 3, for the benefit of the Florence Crittenton home, Herbert Baring of Cincinnati having arrived in Ogden yesterday to take charge of the exhibition, which should prove one of the biggest charitable and art features of the season. The wonderful picture always has been exhibited for charity and has helped many an institution in this country.

H. Baring of Cincinnati, whom the many Ogden visitors at the Seattle exposition will remember as the lecturer who so fascinatingly told of the wonderful miracle painting, "In the Shadow of the Cross," which was the center of art interest at the great fair, arrived in the city yesterday to make arrangements for the exhibition of the marvelous painting in this city the week prior to Christmas. The picture, which is now owned by Dr. W. L. Wright, millionaire and philanthropist of Washington, D. C., is always exhibited for the benefit of some worthy charity, and it is Mr. Baring's privilege to offer it for the benefit of some local charity in Ogden. It is being exhibited at Walla Walla this week under the auspices of Whitman college, and the week before was shown in Spokane.

In talking of the painting Mr. Baring said: "The painting, 'In the Shadow of the Cross,' is the work of Mr. Ahl, a young artist who was only 26 years old when it was painted, at Springfield, Mass., in 1896, after a recent tour of the Holy Land where the artist became so imbued with the spiritual significance of the country that he determined to devote the rest of his life to the painting of religious subjects. One of his pictures, his Madonna and child, was purchased for the Tate collection of London.

Picture Radiates.

"Soon after this Mr. Ahl decided to paint the Christ as He appeared to him; the figure was painted and the background still unfinished when the picture entered his studio in Springfield one evening and discovered that the picture radiated a wonderful light, which not only brought out the figure of the Christ, but which showed, apparently resting on his shoulders, a shadowy cross which was not visible in the picture and the daylight. The radiance emanating from this picture was of the soft brilliancy of moonlight and the cross appearing in the background was most startling."

It is the theory among many psychologists that Mr. Ahl, having been taught in early years and being imbued with religious beliefs